

ICE Brent Index Consultation Policy

Introduction

1. ICE Futures Europe (“IFEU” or “the Exchange”) is the administrator of the ICE Brent Index.
2. IFEU is authorised and regulated by the FCA and is required to comply with the FCA’s rules for benchmark administrators.

IOSCO Principles for Financial Benchmarks

3. IOSCO’s Principles for Financial Benchmarks in July 2013 to set global standards for the administration of benchmarks. Specifically, IOSCO sought to articulate policy guidance and principles for Benchmark-related activities that would address conflicts of interest in the Benchmark-setting process, as well as transparency and openness when considering issues related to transition.
4. Principle 12 (Changes to the Methodology) states that:

“The Administrator should develop Stakeholder consultation procedures in relation to changes to the Methodology that are deemed material by the oversight function, and that are appropriate and proportionate to the breadth and depth of the Benchmark’s use and the nature of the Stakeholders. Procedures should:

- a. Provide advance notice and a clear timeframe that gives Stakeholders sufficient opportunity to analyse and comment on the impact of such proposed material changes, having regard to the Administrator’s assessment of the overall circumstances; and
  - b. Provide for Stakeholders’ summary comments, and the Administrator’s summary response to those comments, to be made accessible to all Stakeholders after any given consultation period, except where the commenter has requested confidentiality.”
5. IOSCO further states that:

“These procedures should clearly define what constitutes a material change, and the method and timing for consulting or notifying Subscribers (and other Stakeholders where appropriate, taking into account the breadth and depth of the Benchmark’s use) of changes.”
  6. IFEU has defined what constitutes a material change as one which would require a change to IFEU’s published methodology, other than cosmetic changes. Material changes are subject to approval by IFEU’s President after consulting with the Oversight Committee, and are documented accordingly.
  7. Changes which do not require an update to the published methodology would be considered immaterial. Such changes are subject to approval by IFEU’s President in consultation with the Benchmark Administration Manager and COO, and are documented accordingly.

Consultation process

8. IFEU will consult publicly from time to time on proposed changes to the ICE Brent Index.
9. In conjunction with the Oversight Committee, IFEU will prepare a consultation paper after careful consideration of the following points:
  - a. any regulatory or legal obligations of the benchmark administrator or of benchmark users;

- b. any other legal or regulatory implications including any potential consequences for the continuity of existing contracts;
  - c. any technology and related processes and procedures;
  - d. whether the proposals are clearly articulated and give a balanced view of the likely implications;
  - e. whether feedback questions are clear and unambiguous;
  - f. whether the consultation period is sufficient
  - g. how consultation responses will be analysed and what criteria will be used in evaluating them, and
  - h. who will be able to access the consultation responses.
10. Consultation papers will be reviewed and agreed by the Oversight Committee, and/or the IFEU Board as appropriate before publication or circulation.
  11. IFEU typically will share a consultation paper with the FCA before publication.
  12. IFEU will publish consultation papers on its website and invite interested parties to comment on the proposals by a specified date.
  13. When the consultation period closes, IFEU will prepare a detailed analysis of responses for internal use, circulating it as appropriate to the Oversight Committee and the Board.
  14. IFEU will publish a feedback statement summarising responses and excluding points made by a commenter who has requested confidentiality. The feedback statement will be review and agreed with the Oversight Committee before publication.
